Many members believe that apart from the actual reports, the briefings are the most valuable benefit of being a member. These comprise:

Executive Briefings—After the release of the quarterly reports, the Client Relationship Managers contact each member hospital to arrange an executive briefing as a team presentation highlighting the significant changes since the last report.

At least once a year, these briefings occur in the members hospital. Other briefings throughout the year occur via teleconference or video conferencing.

Personal member briefings—offer one on one discussions with the CEO that not only explain all of the significant reasons of change in the data reports, but also highlight opportunities for improvement. Where appropriate, information about innovative improvements from other HRT hospitals and visiting national and international presenters to HRT are shared with your staff.

Additional Personal Visits by senior Health Roundtable staff can also be provided at a small daily fee covering travel and professional time. This enables you to involve more staff from your health service in patient-care improvement activities and increase the networking with "exemplar" sites across Australia and New Zealand.

Chat room - The Chat room service is available during normal working hours and is easily accessible on the HRT website. This service provides direct access for any member of your organisation to ask questions about any facet of HRT reports directly to the HRT support team.
