The Emergency Care Improvement Group provides benchmarked information across the full gamut of Emergency Care, and brings Australian and New Zealand sites together to share ideas, innovations and find solutions to common challenges.

Reporting information has been streamed into three categories:

- a) Patients' access to care
- b) Patients' safety and quality of care
- c) Patients' value from care

The Emergency Care Improvement Group workshop is an excellent forum for discussion and a great opportunity to hear from leading experts in the field and share innovations from our membership. This year's theme is The Emergency-Hospital Interface. Challenges that occur at the interface between Emergency Care and other hospital teams were highlighted by members as having significant impact on the smooth delivery of patient care and the operation of Emergency Care services.

The ED-Mental Health interface was identified by both Emergency Care and Mental Health Improvement Groups as challenging. In response, Health Roundtable will run the workshops for both Groups concurrently and include a joint session between the two teams. During this session we will discuss effective relationships and collaboration including hypothetical clinical scenarios to work through in groups.

The Health Roundtable helps health executives learn how to achieve best practice in their organisations. We collect and analyse operational and clinical data of our member organisations to search for innovations in patient care. We promote collaboration and networking amongst health executives and staff through our roundtable meetings, workshops, and other activities.
